HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

A very nice Hallowe'en party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dorris, Sr., Thursday evening of last week, in honor of their son, Walter, to the Hayti High School pupils and teachers of the school.

The house was especially prepared for the entertainment and convenience of the guests, even the lights being dimmed in different colors. Japanese lanterns lighted the way from the walk to the house and around the porch. A rope was attached at the entrance and ran among the fruit trees around to the rear of the residence and the guests were required to enter through a window, where they were escorted to the Hallowe'en witch, where each one's fortune was told.

After much merriment they were invited into the dining room, where refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present were: Superintendent W. H. Johnson and little children; Bailey Brooks; Misses Verna Welborn, Flora Winters, Jessie Hill Mamie Pickens, Hattie Wirsching, Mamie Winters and Letitia McFarland, and about 30 girls and boys.

WE WELCOME THEM.

B. A. Tolle and family arrived in this city Sunday, and have rented the John Stubbs residence. Mr. Tolle is manager for the local wholesale house of the Arkansas Grocer Co. He seems to us as a very nice business man, and we believe the people of Hayti will find him a booster for Hayti and its people. We welcome Mr. Tolle and family to this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stephens and family motored down to Braggadocio last Sunday and experienced their first real fun with their Ford. They had not had an accident since they bought it last June, and Sunday had enough trouble to make up for the good times, having had three punctures on this one single trip. Uncle Elmer says at any rate he enjoyed the mishap.

Will Pyles, general manager of the Arkansas Grocer Co., of Blytheville, Ark., was attending to business in this city Wednesday, in connection with the local grocery house.

Charles Wood began his school on Black Island Monday of this week. Charles was attending school here during his vacation. He made many friends while here and we hope he will find it convenient to be with us more before the close of our term.

Friday afternoon was "Patrons' Day," but since there was such a preponderance of ladies present we might more appropriately call it "Mother's Day." I wish to say in the outset that there is no greater work than the task of training children in the right way, and in this work the fathers should shoulder their share of the responsibility. I know that our men do not put the dollar above the child, but those who are inclined to criticize men for the lack of interest in the training of children sometimes make this false accusation.

All the rooms had short programs with Hallowe'en as a center. Several of the rooms were artistically decorated with such ample materials as autumn offers.

After the children were dismissed the patrons were invited to remain for light refreshments, which were served by the teachers and some of the high school girls. Last but not least by any means, the patrons had their pictures taken, and the group will appear in the annual the senior class expects to get.

The teachers and pupils were well pleased by the way the patrons responded to the invitations sent them. We feel their presence will have a lasting effect on the morals of the school, and hope they will visit us often, not waiting for an invitation.

The School Savings Bank is

JUDGE TIM DORRIS.

Forty-nine years ago last Tuesday, at 10 o'clock in the morning, the person of whose picture appears above, which is a good likeness, and whom we call Judge Tim Dorris, arrived in Pemiscot county, and has ever since been one of its most useful citizens, having served several years at different times as judge of the county court.

He first set foot on Pemiscot soil at Gayoso, which was at that time the largest town in the county, and was about one mile from the banks of the Mississippi river. The day of his arrival there was an election being held, and at that election John Gordon, who was the father of Felie Gordon, now recorder of deeds at New Madrid, was elected circuit clerk and ex-officio recorder of deeds, and John Parmenter was elected sheriff.

But since that time Pemiscot county and its citizens have made a wonderful change. Many of the leading citizens have been laid under the cold sod, many have moved away and all trace of them is lost. And Gayoso is no more. The great Father of Waters has eaten at the base of the once metropolis of Pemiscot county until now its last landmark is a thing of the past. All that remains of the town Gayoso is fond memories.

Judge Dorris is getting up in years—the locks are beginning to get snowy. At times he was prosperous and the world looked upon him with a smile, but reverses wended their way toward him, and the burden of life rests heavily upon his shoulders. However, he is making the best of it.

The Judge has one good consolation in knowing that he has always tried to benefit his fellow man, often to his own injury.

John A. Thompson has again enrolled his name on our honor roll of good subscribers. Mr. Thompson is one of the merchants near the depot and is enjoying a very nice business. He has always been a strong believer in the support of home enterprises, and says he cannot do without the Herald.

now in full operation and we are glad to see so many children saving their one cent pieces, nickels and dimes. The lesson of economy is one of the greatest of a life time. These are the ones who have charge of the savings bank for this term:

Directors: President, Isaiah Faris; Vice Presidents, Nat Buckley, George Sigler, Earl Rayback.

Cashier: Hattie Mae Argo; Assistant Cashiers: Joseph Kohn, Ethel Hamilton, Allie Thomas.

Tuesday was class organization day. The following are the officials of the different classes:

Senior Class: President, Blair Buckley; Vice President, Isaiah Faris; Secretary, Lillie Sprayberry; Treasurer, Bonnie Hart.

Junior Class: President, Earl Rayback; Vice President, Allie Thomas; Secretary, Joseph Kohn; Treasurer, Mae Merrill.

ENTERTAINS.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brittin entertained at their home in the south part of town Tuesday evening.

The guests began to arrive about eight o'clock and were graciously received by the hostess, assisted by her two daughters, Misses Kathryn and Ella, also by Miss Helen Guffy.

Progressive pinochle was the feature pastime of the evening, followed by a two course luncheon consisting of salad, sandwiches, pickles, olives and coffee, and sherbet, cake and bon bons.

Such an interesting evening it was that the guests did not repair home until the wee sma' hours of the morning. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Bayless Guffy, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Kassel, Mrs. Jessie Dorris; Misses Verna Welborn and Letitia McFarland; Messrs. J. T. Jackson, Blair Boyle, J. H. Swain, Victor Putnam and Mr. Nickolate.

Excelsior and Lee Flour lead them all when it comes to quality. At Buckley's.

CONCORD ITEM.

BY BILL.

A. R. Sanders made a trip to Portageville Saturday.

Miss Irene, the daughter of Esq. F. M. Klingensmith, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Leecer, at Hayti this week.

If you want to find Willman you will have to look for a tree, as he is very busy.

Miss Bessie, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. S. McPherson, is attending the singing convention at Hathaway, Tenn. week.

The next singing convention in Pemiscot county will be at Shilo, near Portageville, on fourth Sunday in April, 1916.

W. D. Hudgens and family, accompanied by Misses Iris and Lola Erwin of Dry Bayou, took dinner out on the river last week, reporting a good time.

Constable R. D. Sanders made a business trip to Caruthersville Monday. We would like to hear from localities. Why not send us items from each neighborhood? Let us hear from too, Dry Bayou.]

BUYING POOR SHOES TO SAVE MONEY IS LIKE STOPPING THE CLOCK TO SAVE TIME

This is just as good a guide for one as it is for another.

There is no economy in doing it any way you look at the operation.

There is no safety in it for the merchant and no satisfaction to the customer.

SKIN INSURANCE

Little ills such as chapped hands and inflamed skin are a source of constant discomfort.

It should, therefore, be worth a great deal to you to know of a preparation which will promptly and effectively cure chaps and keep the skin smooth, soft and healthy.

We are firmly convinced that there is nothing better than KAMFER CREAM for this purpose.

We have made this for a long time and have had a remarkable demand for it. It is healing, soothing and strongly antiseptic.

At this season of the year a bottle of this should be kept on hand ready for use whenever the skin becomes roughened or irritated.

By using KAMFER CREAM, the clean remedy, it will not be necessary to finally "fall back" on the greasy camphor and menthol mixtures to get relief, as this remedy contains these and other valuable healing and soothing antiseptics combined in such a way as to give the desired effect and still be clean and easy to use.

Applied after shaving, the face positively will not smart or get sore and have that "too close a shave" feeling.

Any inflammation of the skin, whether from exposure to wind and weather, burns, scalds, insect bites, or other causes will be greatly benefitted by using this remedy.

It is made and sold only by us and is put up in 25c bottles only.
